

| #  |  |  |  | EXAMPLE                                                  |
|----|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------|
| 1  | rush verb                                                           | shoshiladi                                                                        | спешит                                                                            | He rushes to the bus stop every morning.          |
| 2  | slightly adverb                                                     | biroz                                                                             | слегка                                                                            | The tea is slightly too hot.                      |
| 3  | out of breath phrase                                                | nafasi bo'g'ilgan                                                                 | запыхавшись                                                                       | The children were out of breath after the game.   |
| 4  | miss verb                                                           | eshitib qolmagan                                                                  | пропустил                                                                         | I missed the start of the film.                   |
| 5  | announcement noun                                                   | e'lon                                                                             | объявление                                                                        | Listen — there's an announcement about our train. |
| 6  | approach verb                                                       | yaqinlashadi                                                                      | подходит                                                                          | A waiter approaches our table.                    |
| 7  | desk noun                                                           | stol                                                                              | стойка                                                                            | Ask at the reception desk .                       |
| 8  | platform noun                                                       | peron                                                                             | платформа                                                                         | The train to Bukhara leaves from platform two.    |
| 9  | leave verb                                                          | jo'nab ketadi                                                                     | отправляется                                                                      | The bus leaves at eight sharp.                    |
| 10 | assistant noun                                                      | yordamchi                                                                         | сотрудник (помощник)                                                              | The shop assistant helped me find my size.        |
| 11 | afraid adjective                                                    | afsuski                                                                           | к сожалению                                                                       | I'm afraid we're closed.                          |
| 12 | disappointed adjective                                              | hafsalasi pir bo'lgan                                                             | разочарованный                                                                    | I was disappointed with my exam result.           |
| 13 | check verb                                                          | tekshirayotgan                                                                    | проверяющий                                                                       | The guard is checking our tickets.                |
| 14 | screen noun                                                         | ekran                                                                             | экран                                                                             | The times are on the big screen .                 |
| 15 | price noun                                                          | narx                                                                              | цена                                                                              | What's the price of this melon?                   |
| 16 | waiting room noun                                                   | kutish zali                                                                       | зал ожидания                                                                      | We sat in the waiting room for an hour.           |
| 17 | nearby adverb                                                       | yaqin atrofda                                                                     | поблизости                                                                        | Is there a pharmacy nearby ?                      |
| 18 | past preposition                                                    | keyin (o'tib)                                                                     | мимо                                                                              | Go past the bank and turn left.                   |
| 19 | ticket noun                                                         | chipta                                                                            | билет                                                                             | How much is a ticket to Samarkand?                |
| 20 | buy verb                                                            | sotib olgan                                                                       | купил                                                                             | I bought a new pair of shoes.                     |
| 21 | return ticket noun                                                  | ikki tomonlama chipta                                                             | билет туда и обратно                                                              | A return ticket is cheaper than two singles.      |
| 22 | admit verb                                                          | tan oladi                                                                         | признаёт                                                                          | She admits she was wrong.                         |
| 23 | decide verb                                                         | qaror qilgan                                                                      | решил                                                                             | We've decided to go by train.                     |
| 24 | later adverb                                                        | keyinroq                                                                          | позже                                                                             | I'll call you later .                             |
| 25 | confirm verb                                                        | tasdiqlaydi                                                                       | подтверждает                                                                      | The email confirms our hotel booking.             |
| 26 | relieved adjective                                                  | yengil tortgan                                                                    | испытывавший облегчение                                                           | We were relieved to hear the news.                |
| 27 | board verb                                                          | chiqadi (transportga)                                                             | садится (в транспорт)                                                             | She boards the plane with her family.             |
| 28 | plan verb                                                           | rejalashtirib                                                                     | планируя                                                                          | We're planning a party for Saturday.              |
| 29 | miss verb                                                           | eshitib qolmaslik                                                                 | пропуская                                                                         | Missing the bus made me late for school.          |

---

|    |                             |         |            |                                                          |
|----|-----------------------------|---------|------------|----------------------------------------------------------|
| 30 | disaster noun | falokat | катастрофа | The holiday was a disaster — it rained every day. |
|----|-----------------------------|---------|------------|----------------------------------------------------------|

---

millatedu.uz · Read the story again and try to use each word in your own sentence.