

How Non Is Made

| #  |  |  |  | EXAMPLE                                                         |
|----|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1  | apprentice noun                                                     | shogird                                                                           | ученик                                                                            | He works as an apprentice in a car workshop.             |
| 2  | baker noun                                                          | novvoy                                                                            | пекарь                                                                            | The baker starts work at four in the morning.            |
| 3  | traditional adjective                                               | an'anaviy                                                                         | традиционный                                                                      | We wore traditional clothes for Navruz.                  |
| 4  | master noun                                                         | usta                                                                              | мастер                                                                            | The master showed us how to make pottery.                |
| 5  | dough noun                                                          | xamir                                                                             | тесто                                                                             | Leave the dough in a warm place.                         |
| 6  | mix verb                                                            | aralashtiriladi                                                                   | замешивается                                                                      | The paint is mixed with water.                           |
| 7  | machine noun                                                        | mashina(uskuna)                                                               | машина(устройство)                                                            | This machine makes coffee in one minute.                 |
| 8  | texture noun                                                        | tuzilishi                                                                         | текстура                                                                          | This bread has a soft texture .                          |
| 9  | control verb                                                        | boshqariladi                                                                      | контролируется                                                                    | The temperature in the room is controlled by a computer. |
| 10 | batch noun                                                          | partiya                                                                           | партия                                                                            | She baked a batch of cookies for the guests.             |
| 11 | shape verb                                                          | shakl beriladi                                                                    | формируется                                                                       | The cake was shaped like a heart.                        |
| 12 | rest verb                                                           | tinch qoldiriladi                                                                 | отдыхать (о тесте)                                                                | Let the meat rest for ten minutes before cutting.        |
| 13 | rush verb                                                           | shoshiltiriladi                                                                   | торопить                                                                          | Good food can't be rushed .                              |
| 14 | rise verb                                                           | ko'tarilmoq                                                                       | подниматься (о тесте)                                                             | Bread needs time to rise .                               |
| 15 | properly adverb                                                     | to'g'ri                                                                           | должным образом                                                                   | Wash your hands properly before you eat.                 |
| 16 | pattern noun                                                        | naqsh                                                                             | узор                                                                              | The carpet has a beautiful pattern .                     |
| 17 | press verb                                                          | bosiladi                                                                          | прижимается                                                                       | Fresh juice is pressed from oranges.                     |
| 18 | tool noun                                                           | asbob                                                                             | инструмент                                                                        | A hammer is a useful tool .                              |
| 19 | unique adjective                                                    | o'ziga xos                                                                        | уникальный                                                                        | Every person's fingerprint is unique .                   |
| 20 | clay noun                                                           | loy                                                                               | глина                                                                             | These old pots are made of clay .                        |
| 21 | oven noun                                                           | pech                                                                              | печь                                                                              | Put the cake in the oven for forty minutes.              |
| 22 | stick verb                                                          | yopishtiriladi                                                                    | прилипает                                                                         | My shoe got stuck in the mud.                            |
| 23 | temperature noun                                                    | harorat                                                                           | температура                                                                       | The temperature today is 35 degrees.                     |
| 24 | closely adverb                                                      | diqqat bilan                                                                      | внимательно                                                                       | Watch the teacher closely .                              |
| 25 | burn verb                                                           | kuyib qolmoq                                                                      | подгореть                                                                         | Be careful — don't burn your fingers!                    |
| 26 | remove verb                                                         | olinadi                                                                           | вынимается                                                                        | The old tree was removed from the garden.                |
| 27 | cool verb                                                           | sovushi                                                                           | остывать                                                                          | Let the soup cool a little before you eat it.            |
| 28 | loaf noun                                                           | non buxonkasi                                                                     | буханка                                                                           | Can I have a loaf of bread, please?                      |
| 29 | respect verb                                                        | hurmat qilinadi                                                                   | уважается                                                                         | Teachers are very respected in Uzbekistan.               |
| 30 | tradition noun                                                      | an'ana                                                                            | традиция                                                                          | Drinking green tea is an old tradition here.             |